Goals:
Website which has a user log into an account, in which they have businesses. Each business has orders which can be held.

Orders should have a tile, description, date, price and ability to add more sections.